Fake Off

Supported by:

Erasmus+ / Cooperation Partnerships

EU Youth Programme Priority:

Participation in Democratic Life

Topic:

Media, Information & Critical Thinking Youth Participation / Skills Development and Volunteering

Youth goals:

Information & Constructive Dialogue

Youth workers and experts from five countries joined forces to promote critical thinking about disinformation and Internet content. The result: a wide collection of fun games, interactive learning methods, and a playful app! With the help of these creative training materials, it has never been easier to train young digital natives how to fight disinformation.

What is Participation for you?

“Participation means an exchange. If people from all around Europe get involved in a process, it helps to develop, adapt and improve quality for a specific topic.”

Laura Reutler PROJECT COORDINATOR

Wow!

Excellent, replicable outputs have been created and shared in 5 languages. One of them is the game-based, youthful application that has already been downloaded more than 300 times. Grab your smartphone, take the quiz and learn about fake news on your own!
