

SALTO

Collection of Flagship Projects

Online Youth Activism: No Filter

Supported by:

European Solidarity Corps / Solidarity Projects

EU Youth Programme Priority:

Participation in Democratic Life

Topic:

Youth Participation / Activism and Decision Making

Youth goals:

Space and Participation for All, Information & Constructive Dialogue

EUROPEAN
SOLIDARITY CORPS

Erasmus+

In this solidarity project, the young founders of the Croatian Mladforma NGO pulled together an extensive network of youth activists to raise awareness about the most pressing problems in the community. Their creative social media campaigns highlighted the most concerning issues and brought forth the voice of young people. Without doubt, they have started to transform their home, Osijek, into a real city of youth.

What is Participation for you?

“You participate if you act on the problems of the world. Youth participation is similar! Especially because young people are the ones who feel, suffer, see, and thus are more motivated to solve world problems. There is lots of potential in their actions. Therefore, we need to let them, and help them, to do so.”

Mirna Šostarko PROJECT COORDINATOR

Wow!

Young people made their creative voices heard, and developed a lot of exciting multimedia content on topics such as human rights, youth policies, quality education, youth spaces, sustainable development, and quality free time. One of their biggest outcomes is the charter of 14 suggestions to make their city a more youth friendly place. A real help for decision-makers!

Learn more about other amazing youth participation projects here: <https://participationpool.eu/project/online-youth-activism-no-filter/>