

SALTO

Collection of Flagship Projects

See through the Fake News: Co-Creating Media Literate Youth

Supported by:

Other

EU Youth Programme Priority:

Participation in Democratic Life

Topic:

Media, Information & Critical Thinking Youth
Participation / Promoting Participation for All

Youth goals:

Information & Constructive Dialogue

Erasmus+

Don't believe everything you are told! From youth to youth, this was the main message of the very practical and engaging media literacy workshops organised by the Cyprus Youth Council. As a result, young participants got skilled up in critical thinking and spotting misinformation, and also became familiar with the mysterious art of policy making

What is Participation for you?

"Not just voting, but also alternative methods count as youth participation. Going to a protest, forming youth initiatives, creating opportunities for other young people, taking part in empowering non-formal education projects and learning through travelling. In a broader sense, all of these can be acts of participation."

Christina Yiannapi SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE CYPRUS YOUTH COUNCIL

Wow!

Exploring many easily usable tools and methods to help you spot misinformation online and offline! Here are just a few examples of young participants' favourite applications for validating information and resources: TinEye (reverse image search tool), YoutubeDataViewer and FotoForensics (tools and training for digital picture analysis).

Learn more about other amazing youth participation projects here: <https://participationpool.eu/project/see-through-the-fake-news-co-creating-media-literate-youth/>