Training Course on Emergency Pedagogy: From Crisis to Chance

Supported by:

Erasmus+ / Mobility of Youth Workers

EU Youth Programme Priority:

Inclusion and Diversity

Topic:

Youth Participation / Skills Development and Volunteering

Youth goals:

Inclusive Societies, Mental Health & Wellbeing, Quality Learning

Teaching children and youngsters who have been through traumatic experiences can be an enormous challenge. In partnership with the Portuguese Spin Association and the German Friends of Waldorf Education, youth workers from eight countries learned how to apply emergency pedagogy concepts and improve the psychosocial well-being of young people all over Europe.

What is Participation for you?

“For me participation is a willingness to both learn and share competences, tools and knowledge with others for community development.”

Sara Segurado PROJECT COORDINATOR

Wow!

This was the first attempt to demonstrate the value of emergency pedagogy in youth work. By creating a training course that can be easily replicated in many countries, this project has reached a huge audience. The first module in Portuguese already online!
