

SALTO

Collection of Flagship Projects

Urban Exploration as an Educational Tool: UrbEx

Supported by:

Erasmus+ / Cooperation Partnerships

EU Youth Programme Priority:

Inclusion and Diversity

Topic:

Youth Participation / Youth Sector Development

Youth goals:

Inclusive Societies, Space and Participation for All, Sustainable Green Europe

EUROPEAN
SOLIDARITY
CORPUS

Erasmus+

Walk around, study and interview local people! View the streets you pass every day from a new perspective! Imagine your city as a person and tell us their secrets! These were just a few of the fascinating activities run by the UrbEx project, which organised creative local workshops across five countries and an exciting youth exchange in Sicily, Italy.

What is Participation for you?

“Participation is the magical principle of all learning experiences. It is a big part of non-formal education! Learners need to feel they are part of the process to give something back to the community.”

Paola Pizzo PROJECT COORDINATOR

Wow!

Inhabitants of Palermo city, Italy observed curiously the groups of young people from Spain, Germany, England, Slovenia and Italy while mapping the so-called Capo district. The youth exchange was a truly inspirational example of international cooperation between youngsters, even from disadvantageous backgrounds, who learned about each other and themselves by having fun and gained confidence in expressing their ideas!

Learn more about other amazing youth participation projects here: <https://participationpool.eu/project/urban-exploration-as-an-educational-tool-urbex/>